Sponsorship Packages

Camel City Elite Races are back in 2023 and are primed to be some of the most competitive and fastest races to date. As one of the top indoor track and field meets in the country, Camel City Elite has set a high bar each year for the level of supporters to make this happen. The Camel City Track Foundation, a 501(c)3 charitable organization, will again handle all of the charitable contributions for this great event.

In 2019, Camel City Elite attendees witnessed two flat track "world records," as Ajee' Wilson ran 1:59.26 for 800m which was immediately followed up by Clayton Murphy's 1:45.92 for 800m. We followed that up in 2020, as Jenny Simpson ran 8:51.49 to set another flat track "world record." And although things were a little different in 2021 due to Covid-19, we are excited for a return to relative normalcy in 2023.

We are currently working on identifying the fields for the 2023 event and once again expect to have some of the top pros and collegians competing in Winston-Salem. Please help us in supporting these great athletes as they chase their Olympic dreams in 2023!

SIDES

Camel City Elite will again offer individual race prize money that is second to no other indoor meet in the USA:

1st place.....$6,000
2nd place..... $4,000
3rd place..... $2,000
4th place.....$1,000

With prize money like this, Camel City Elite will continue to attract some of the top talent in the world to Winston-Salem.
